

Indoor Flying - Brandon

After the loss of our previous venue, and a bleak layoff from indoor flying, the committee have located a suitable sports hall and organised a series of Sunday fly-ins.

These are photos of our first visit on a mutual trial run on 13th January. There was a good turn out and a lot of variety as ever - not especially reflected in the pictures I have used.

The hall worked really well. It's just one court size, but with excellent height and relatively few hazards around the walls. Bonus - there was even catering available!

Bunters Ride, aka Stevens Aero Diddlerod, turned out to be more a drive than a ride for Bunter. A year layup seems to have exhausted the motor, which could barely haul the Diddlerod's 44g frame into the air.

It was really great to get back to the challenges of indoor flying.
